

Inventory Accuracy and Greater Productivity with RFID

Maintaining inventory visibility and accuracy across systems and omnichannel order fulfillment can be challenging. Shoppers expectations to get their purchases when, where, and how they want have been heightened. Integrating RFID into store operations is a proven solution to get a greater inventory accuracy and an effective stock management, which enables retail to elevate their customer experience.

Results You Can Expect

Deliver what customers want, when and where they want it with unmatched accuracy, in-store and online.

- Increase inventory visibility to instantly locate SKUs and improve on-shelf and online availability.
- Ensure that inventory systems match in-store realities.
- Free associates to spend more time with customers.
- Reduce rates of shrink and theft across the store.
